THE FAVORITE LAXATIVE

One at Night Makes the Next Day Bright; No Charge if it Doesn't. Because of its extremely gentle and effective action, Rexall Orderlies have become the most popular Remedy for Constipation.

We are positive that Rexall Orderlies will do all that is claimed for them that we positively guarantee to hand back the money you paid us for them upon your mere request, if you are not entirely satisfied.

Rexall Orderlies have a positive candy, are very pleasant to the taste, do not grip, cause nausea, or any other annoyance usually experienced when ordinary cathartics are used.

Rexall Orderlies have a positive regulative effect upon the bowels and tend to provide permanent relief from Constipation and the myriad of associate ailments. Besides, they help to overcome the necessity of the constant use of laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

We honestly believe there is no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderlies, especially for children, aged, or delicate people. They are prepared in convenient tablet form in three sizes of packages. Prices 10c, 25c, and 50c. Why not try them at our risk on our guarantee?

Remember, Rexall Remedies can be obtained in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. E. G. Murphy.

CUBS EXPECT TO BE STRONG IN THE BOX

BOSS MURPHY PREDICTS GREAT STAFF FOR APPROACHING CAMPAIGN.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Those individuals who have been howling calamity as regards the strength of the Cub pitching staff for the coming year had best seek the cyclone cellar, in the opinion of C. Webb Murphy. The Cub boss is all "hot up" over the disastrous happenings predicted for his pennant seekers on account of a dearth of reliable flinging material and the threatened retirement of Brown, so he emitted an oral outburst yesterday that painted Chance's hand as nothing less than champions of champs.

Murphy refuses to say that his optimistic viewpoint has been inspired through trying to "kid himself" over prospects, nor will he admit that he knows anything in regard to losing his "three-fingered" marvel. In fact, the Cub president has paralysis of the tongue whenever the name of Brown is mentioned within the Cub sanctum, and he will only say that the aspiring hold out, like the other players, will be tendered a contract, and that he expects great things from the men who face the firing line for Chance & Co., in the coming flag campaign.

"What has caused this wave of pessimism?" said Murphy. "What reason is there for worry over our staff? Aren't our prospects at present just as good as last year? Haven't we several old men who can be relied upon to come back swinging in their old stride, and haven't we gathered enough promising recruits to assure the building up of a well balanced staff and one that will be capable of coping with the best of the other clubs will be able to pit against it?"

"I might mention Charley Smith and Larry Cheney. These two men cost the Cubs in the neighborhood of $100,000, and their equals in the National League today are few and far between. Chance as well as myself feels sure that they will prove the mainstays of the staff next season, and this is not guesswork, for both showed their strength in the closing games of last year. Where is the problem in picking a formidable staff from these two and the others, including Brown, Reulbach, Cole, McIntire, Richie, Richter and the recruits?"

Murphy's arguments are sound enough, but nevertheless the pitchers still have to show that they "are there." Brown may never again don a Cub uniform and with him goes that feeling of confidence in knowing that a man is available to go in at any time and offer his best to check misfortune. Brown's threat is by no means a winter dream. He will return to the Cubs only when his proposed business ventures have failed, and so far there is every indication that they will not.

Reulbach is another man of an unknown quantity. The best in the business when he is right and decidedly the opposite on other occasions is the case with "Big Ed" and with his miserable work of last year still fresh it is hard to predict a banner year ahead. A muscular ailment in his right limb was the cause of Reulbach's erratic work in 1911, and much depends on whether this has improved. As pitchers go, it would not be an exceptional case if Reulbach were to come back and prove the league's winning pitcher.

Cole, Richie and McIntire are in and out toilers. Richie is not the man to shoulder the burdens of Brown, but his willingness to trim the Giants make him invaluable. Cole, flighty in the extreme, has not yet reached the crest of his major career, and this is to be considered. As for McIntire, a good year is positively due. On paper the problem is easily worked out, according to the sayings of Murphy, who in this instance is peering through rose-hued glasses.

A question of bringing back left-handers is one that has caused more or less correspondence between Murphy and Chance. The turning back of Jack Pfeister last spring robbed the Cubs of the only post-side heaver on the staff, and more than once during the disastrous campaign the West Side leader was bemoaning fate. This prompted some hurried work in the bushes with the fine comb and James Nagle and Lee Dessen were gathered into the fold.

Nagle was secured from the Newark club of the International league, being tipped off to Murphy by Evers, who had seen him work at Utica in the New York state circuit. He is a big fellow, with lot of fight and sweeping curves. His 1911 record did not amount to much, 13 wins and 14 defeats, but he is a left-hander and a glut for work, and that will entitle him to a chance. Dessen hails from the Sale Lake club, and in addition to a performance of 13 victories and three defeats, he swatted the pill for .423. He is a comer but will need "farming out."

FOLKS PAST FIFTY MUST USE CASCARETS

What Glasses Are to Weak Eyes, Cascarets Are to Weak Bowels—A 10-Cent Box Will Truly Amaze You.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

TODAY'S MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

New York, Jan. 24.—There was a perceptible softening of the stock market this morning although changes among the leading issues were small. Speculative interest seemed almost entirely lacking and at times trading came to a standstill there was some evidence of manipulation of Rock Island and the weakness of Lehigh Valley drew attention to that stock. Efforts to put up prices met with little success. Lehigh Valley lost 1%. United States Steel was supported around 66 but the Harriman, Gould and Hill stocks had spells of weakness. Bonds were irregular.

Denial by James J. Hill of the report that the Hill interests were to acquire control on the Western Pacific and other Gould lines caused heavy selling of the Hill stock. Great Northern preferred gave way 1% and Northern Pacific 1%. Reading, Union Pacific and United States Steel shaded below their midday prices but selling of the general list was not on a very large scale.

The selling movement exhausted itself after Reading had sustained a loss of 1%, and there was a fractional recovery all around. Room shorts showed no eagerness to cover at the lower prices and as the bulls hesitated to bid up the list vigorously speculation became sluggish and uninteresting. The market closed steady. Points of isolated strength were disclosed in the final operations but the general market continued to move in narrow manner. There was a manifest undercurrent of heaviness in important stocks until the last few minutes, when prices improved.

The last sales were for the day were as follows:

Amalgamated Copper	64 1/2
American Beet Sugar	115 1/2
Atchafalpa	106 3/4

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Extreme cold and big snowfalls making worse the prospects for getting supplies from Russia tended today to make the wheat market firm. Cash demand here was also said to have improved. Opening figures were a shade lower to a like amount up. May started at 100% to 100 1/2% and rose to 100% @ 101%. The close was unsettled with May 101 1/2, a gain of 1 1/4 @ 1%.

Despite fine weather, corn displayed strength. May opened 1/4 off at 65%, and then advanced to 66%. The close was nervous at 67 1/2 for May, 1% above last night.

Moderate buying by cash houses furnished support for oats. May started a shade to 1/4 down at 49 1/2 @ 48 1/2, touched 49 1/2 and rose to 49 1/2 @ 49 1/2.

The closing quotations were as follows:

Wheat, May 101 1/2; July 95 1/2.
Corn, May 67 1/2; July 66 1/2.
Oats, May 50 1/2; July 45 1/2.

REARED THANKLESS BROOD

Lawrence, Kan., Jan. 24.—At the Douglas county poor farm, Mrs. Lucy Caromel, who in the last 40 years has reared 21 children, none of them her own, lies stricken with paralysis, that, the physicians say, will cause her death within a day or two. Childless, Mrs. Caromel decided to care for others' little ones. Most of the children she mothered were taken from the county home here and they are all now out in the world caring for themselves. Five years ago Mrs. Caromel, poverty stricken, aged and an invalid, was taken to the poor farm.
